

21st Century

TEENS *Junior*¹

United as one: fighting the virus

众志成城, 携手战“疫”!

PAGES 3-6

Although conditions are difficult, medical workers and ordinary Chinese people are standing together in the fight against the epidemic.

共同战疫

本期“战疫”专题聚焦在“疫情之下个人与群体”在疫情期间所扮演的角色中, 既有上跨疫情的白衣天使, 也有身边的“最美逆行者”, 也有坚守岗位的湖北人民, 心连着心, 手挽着手, 共同抗击疫情。每个人都在以自己的实际行动为抗击疫情贡献一份力量。众志成城, 共渡难关! 守健康, 共成长!

共同战“疫”, 与《TEENS》与你在一起!

Staying strong 新冠疫情影响下的中国经济
How much influence will the NCP outbreak have on the Chinese economy? PAGE 2

Pancake party
春天迎来欢乐的煎饼节
To welcome spring's arrival, pancakes are celebrated in many countries. PAGE 7

第27/687期 初三
北京教育学院朝阳分院 师海红

Everyone has a role to play during the outbreak. 02/11

All of us make our sacrifices

全民抗“疫”，共克时艰：
普通人也在“前线”。

📞 📺 📱 扫码 听新闻

加微信，听新闻

The novel coronavirus (新冠病毒) made this year's Spring Festival holiday very different for most of us.

Many places in China began a first-level emergency (突发事件) response to the virus in mid-January, calling for people to stay at home. Following these rules, most people gave up family gatherings during the Spring Festival and canceled any festive celebrations.

"It's the quietest Chinese New Year I've ever had," Xin Jingrong, a 14-year-old student from Nanning, Guangxi told TEENS. For the first time in years, Xin's grandmother had to cancel her trip to Nanning and stay alone in her hometown.

The control measures not only separate many families, but also make daily life inconvenient. Many shops are closed, delivery services are slow, and wearing masks in public has become a must. But despite the inconvenience, people are showing their understanding and cooperation (合作). ●

Tong Zexi, a 15-year-old student from Harbin, has not gone out in more than 20 days. "I know I need to protect myself and cause no trouble. In this critical (关键的) time, when one gets sick, many others could be affected."

Apart from simply following the rules, some people have done amazing things to help fight the outbreak.

On Feb 3, Zhao Junyan, a Junior 2 student from Shanghai, brought 15,000 masks from Indonesia back to China, People's Daily reported. Zhao, while traveling in Jakarta, collected the masks with his uncle, who works in the city. The 15-year-old donated (捐赠) all of the masks

→ picture

Everyone has a role to play during the outbreak. over

All of us make our sacrifices

→ headline

全民抗“疫”，共克时艰：普通人也在“前线”。

300 8633958
882888141 8514

加微信，听报纸

The novel coronavirus (新冠病毒) made this year's Spring Festival holiday very different for most of us.

Many places in China began a first-level emergency (应急响应) response to the virus in mid-January, calling for people to stay at home. Following these rules, most people gave up family gatherings during the Spring Festival and canceled any festive celebrations.

"It's the quietest Chinese New Year I've ever had," Xin Jingrong, a 14-year-old student from Nanning, Guangxi told TEENS. For the first time in years, Xin's grandmother had to cancel her trip to Nanning and stay alone in her hometown.

The control measures not only separate many families, but also make daily life inconvenient. Many shops are closed, delivery services are slow, and wearing masks in public has become a must. But despite the inconvenience, people are showing their understanding and cooperation (合作).*

Tong Zexi, a 15-year-old student from Harbin, has not gone out in more than 20 days. "I know I need to protect myself and cause no trouble. In this critical (关键) time, when one gets sick, many others could be affected."

Apart from simply following the rules, some people have done amazing things to help fight the outbreak.

On Feb 3, Zhao Junyan, a Junior 2 student from Shanghai, brought 15,000 masks from Indonesia back to China, People's Daily reported. Zhao, while traveling in Jakarta, collected the masks with his uncle, who works in the city. The 15-year-old donated (捐赠) all of the masks

→ annotation words

Sacrifices:
You give up something valuable or important.

What information can you get?

All of us
make our sacrifices

新型冠状病毒 突发事件

合作 关键的

捐赠

Prediction

Read to check your prediction

1. What is the passage mainly about?

Read to check your prediction

300
words

The novel coronavirus (新冠病毒) made this year's Spring Festival holiday very different for most of us.

Many places in China began a first-level emergency (突发事件) response to the virus in mid-January, calling for people to stay at home. Following these rules, most people gave up family gatherings during the Spring Festival and canceled any festive celebrations.

"It's the quietest Chinese New Year I've ever had," Xin Jingrong, a 14-year-old student from Nanning, Guangxi told TEENS. For the first time in years, Xin's grandmother had to cancel her trip to Nanning and stay alone in her hometown.

The control measures not only separate many families, but also make daily life inconvenient. Many shops are closed, delivery services are slow, and wearing masks in public has become a must. But despite the inconvenience, people are showing their understanding and cooperation (合作). ②

Read to check your prediction

Tong Zexi, a 15-year-old student from Harbin, has not gone out in more than 20 days. “I know I need to protect myself and cause no trouble. In this critical (关键的) time, when one gets sick, many others could be affected.”

Apart from simply following the rules, some people have done amazing things to help fight the outbreak.

On Feb 3, Zhao Junyan, a Junior 2 student from Shanghai, brought 15,000 masks from Indonesia back to China, People’s Daily reported. Zhao, while traveling in Jakarta, collected the masks with his uncle, who works in the city. The 15-year-old donated (捐赠) all of the masks to Cangnan, Zhejiang, his hometown.

“When a country is in trouble, everyone is responsible to help,” Zhao said to the media. “What I have done is what an ordinary Chinese person can possibly do.”

Read to check your prediction

1. What is the passage mainly about?

- A. What teenagers do to enjoy themselves at home.
- B. What ordinary people can do to protect themselves.
- C. How Chinese New Year was celebrated this year.
- D. How ordinary people's lives are changed by the virus.

Read to check your prediction

1. What is the passage mainly about?

- A. What teenagers do to enjoy themselves at home.
- B. What ordinary people can do to protect themselves.
- C. How Chinese New Year was celebrated this year.
- D. How ordinary people's lives are changed by the virus.

Close reading for detail information

2. What sacrifices are mentioned in the passage?

3. Who are mentioned in the passage and what do you know about them?

Name	Age	Place	Action	Feeling

4. According to the passage, what are people's attitude to the life inconveniences caused by the virus?

Close reading for detail information

300
words

The novel coronavirus (新冠病毒) made this year's Spring Festival holiday very different for most of us.

Many places in China began a first-level emergency (突发事件) response to the virus in mid-January, calling for people to stay at home. Following these rules, most people gave up family gatherings during the Spring Festival and canceled any festive celebrations.

"It's the quietest Chinese New Year I've ever had," Xin Jingrong, a 14-year-old student from Nanning, Guangxi told TEENS. For the first time in years, Xin's grandmother had to cancel her trip to Nanning and stay alone in her hometown.

The control measures not only separate many families, but also make daily life inconvenient. Many shops are closed, delivery services are slow, and wearing masks in public has become a must. But despite the inconvenience, people are showing their understanding and cooperation (合作). ②

Close reading for detail information

Tong Zexi, a 15-year-old student from Harbin, has not gone out in more than 20 days. “I know I need to protect myself and cause no trouble. In this critical (关键的) time, when one gets sick, many others could be affected.”

Apart from simply following the rules, some people have done amazing things to help fight the outbreak.

On Feb 3, Zhao Junyan, a Junior 2 student from Shanghai, brought 15,000 masks from Indonesia back to China, People’s Daily reported. Zhao, while traveling in Jakarta, collected the masks with his uncle, who works in the city. The 15-year-old donated (捐赠) all of the masks to Cangnan, Zhejiang, his hometown.

“When a country is in trouble, everyone is responsible to help,” Zhao said to the media. “What I have done is what an ordinary Chinese person can possibly do.”

Close reading for detail information

2. What sacrifices are mentioned in the passage?

Read to check your prediction

The novel coronavirus (新冠病毒) made this year's Spring Festival holiday very different for most of us.

2 Many places in China began a first-level emergency (突发事件) response to the virus in mid-January, calling for people to stay at home. Following these rules, most people gave up family gatherings during the Spring Festival and canceled any festive celebrations.

"It's the quietest Chinese New Year I've ever had," Xin Jingrong, a 14-year-old student from Nanning, Guangxi told TEENS. For the first time in years, Xin's grandmother had to cancel her trip to Nanning and stay alone in her hometown.

4 The control measures not only separate many families, but also make daily life inconvenient. Many shops are closed, delivery services are slow, and wearing masks in public has become a must. But despite the inconvenience, people are showing their understanding and cooperation (合作). ②

Close reading for detail information

2. What sacrifices are mentioned in the passage?

People are separated with their families and friends and suffer from the inconveniences of life.

Close reading for detail information

3. Who are mentioned in the passage and what do you know about them?

Name	Age	Place	Action	Feeling

Close reading for detail information

3. Who are mentioned in the passage and what do you know about them?

Name	Age	Place	Action	Feeling
Xin Jingrong	14	Nanning, Guangxi	stayed at home and spent the quietest Chinese New year , without grandmother	sounds like a bit pity, pitiful
Tong Zexi	15	Harbin	not go out to protect him/herself, caused no trouble	self-disciplined
Zhao Junyan	Junior2 (13/14)	Shanghai	brought 15,000 masks from Indonesia back to China and donated them to his hometown.	responsible natural, normal

Close reading for detail information

300
words

The novel coronavirus (新冠病毒) made this year's Spring Festival holiday very different for most of us.

Many places in China began a first-level emergency (突发事件) response to the virus in mid-January, calling for people to stay at home. Following these rules, most people gave up family gatherings during the Spring Festival and canceled any festive celebrations.

"It's the quietest Chinese New Year I've ever had," Xin Jingrong, a 14-year-old student from Nanning, Guangxi told TEENS. For the first time in years, Xin's grandmother had to cancel her trip to Nanning and stay alone in her hometown.

The control measures not only separate many families, but also make daily life inconvenient. Many shops are closed, delivery services are slow, and wearing masks in public has become a must. But despite the inconvenience, people are showing their understanding and cooperation (合作). ②

Close reading for detail information

Tong Zexi, a 15-year-old student from Harbin, has not gone out in more than 20 days. “I know I need to protect myself and cause no trouble. In this critical (关键的) time, when one gets sick, many others could be affected.”

Apart from simply following the rules, some people have done amazing things to help fight the outbreak.

On Feb 3, Zhao Junyan, a Junior 2 student from Shanghai, brought 15,000 masks from Indonesia back to China, People’s Daily reported. Zhao, while traveling in Jakarta, collected the masks with his uncle, who works in the city. The 15-year-old donated (捐赠) all of the masks to Cangnan, Zhejiang, his hometown.

“When a country is in trouble, everyone is responsible to help,” Zhao said to the media. “What I have done is what an ordinary Chinese person can possibly do.”

Close reading for detail information

4. According to the passage, what are people's attitude to the life inconvenience caused by the virus?

People are showing their understanding and cooperation.

Close reading for detail information

The novel coronavirus (新冠病毒) made this year's Spring Festival holiday very different for most of us.

Many places in China began a first-level emergency (突发事件) response to the virus in mid-January, calling for people to stay at home. Following these rules, most people gave up family gatherings during the Spring Festival and canceled any festive celebrations.

Emergency
Department

"It's the quietest Chinese New Year I've ever had," Xin Jingrong, a 14-year-old student from Nanning, Guangxi told TEENS. For the first time in years, Xin's grandmother had to cancel her trip to Nanning and stay alone in her hometown.

4 The control measures not only separate many families, but also make daily life inconvenient. Many shops are closed, delivery services are slow, and wearing masks in public has become a must. But despite the inconvenience, people are showing their understanding and cooperation (合作). ②

In spite of

Para
1-4

Read for Further thinking

5. How do you understand the word “sacrifices” after reading this passage?
6. What do you think of the headline? Can you give a better one?

Read for Further thinking

5. How do you understand the word “sacrifices” after reading this passage?

Sacrifice: n./ v. the fact of giving up sth important or valuable to you in order to get or do sth that seems more important; sth that you give up in this way 牺牲；舍弃

All of us
make our sacrifices

Eg. She made many sacrifices to get her son a good education.

She sacrificed family life to her career.

Compared with the medical workers who are fighting with the virus at the front line, our sacrifices are nothing.

Don't be upset or complain any more.

“When a country is in trouble, everyone is responsible to help,” said Zhao Junyan.

Read for Further thinking

6. What do you think of the headline? Can you give a better one?

All of us
make our sacrifices

Sacrifices or NOT

Misfortune or Fortune

Different Holiday Different Lives

.....

What are the girls doing?

How do they feel?

Celebrate pancakes

原来煎饼还有个专属的节日!

词数 290 测试见IV版
建议阅读时间 7分钟

Pancake Day, or Shrove Tuesday, is a special day celebrated in many countries around the world. It is celebrated in English-speaking countries like the UK, Ireland, Australia and Canada. In France, the US and other countries, it is called Mardi Gras or Fat Tuesday. In countries like Spain, Italy and Brazil, Shrove Tuesday is held at the end of Carnival (狂欢节).

One large egg
Some sugar
Some salt

Instructions:

Fill one cup with flour and put into a bowl. Fill another cup with milk and pour into the bowl. Crack (打碎) the egg into the bowl and whisk (搅拌) the flour, milk and egg until the mixture is smooth. Put a very small amount of

CFP

Celebrate pancakes

原来煎饼还有个专属的节日!

词数 290 测试见IV版
建议阅读时间 7分钟

Pancake Day, or Shrove Tuesday, is a special day celebrated in many countries around the world. It is celebrated in English-speaking countries like the UK, Ireland, Australia and Canada. In France, the US and other countries, it is called Mardi Gras or Fat Tuesday. In countries like Spain, Italy and Brazil, Shrove Tuesday is held at the end of Carnival (狂欢节).

One large egg
Some sugar
Some salt

Instructions:

Fill one cup with flour and put into a bowl. Fill another cup with milk and pour into the bowl. Crack (打碎) the egg into the bowl and whisk (搅拌) the flour, milk and egg until the mixture is smooth. Put a very small amount of

Do you like eating pancakes?

Can you make a pancake?

Read for detail information

Para1&2

Pancake Day, or Shrove Tuesday, is a special day celebrated in many countries around the world. It is celebrated in English-speaking countries like the UK, Ireland, Australia and Canada. In France, the US and other countries, it is called Mardi Gras or Fat Tuesday. In countries like Spain, Italy and Brazil, Shrove Tuesday is held at the end of Carnival (狂欢节).

Pancake Day is always on a Tuesday in February or March. On this day, many people eat pancakes: thin, flat (扁平的) cakes made in a pan. Another tradition in the UK is pancake racing. People run in a race with a pancake in a pan. As they run, they have to toss (抛扔) the pancake in the air and catch it in the pan several times. In some pancake races, people dress up in fancy costumes.

1: Who celebrate Pancake Day and how do they celebrate it?

Reading for detail information

Q1: Who celebrate Pancake Day and how do they celebrate it?

Who	When	How
English-speaking countries like the UK, Ireland, Australia and Canada, Pancake Day, or Shrove Tuesday	on a Tuesday in February or March	<ul style="list-style-type: none">●eat pancakes●pancake racing, run and toss the pancake in the air and catch it in the pan several times●dress up in fancy costumes.
In France, the US and other countries, called Mardi Gras or Fat Tuesday
In countries like Spain, Italy and Brazil, Shrove Tuesday	at the end of Carnival

Reading for detail information

Pancakes are very easy to make. Try our recipe (食谱).

Ingredients:

One cup of flour (面粉)

Some butter or oil

One cup of milk

Lemon juice

One large egg

Some sugar

Some salt

2: How do they make a pancake?

Instructions:

Fill one cup with flour and put into a bowl. Fill another cup with milk and pour into the bowl. Crack (打碎) the egg into the bowl and whisk (搅拌) the flour, milk and egg until the mixture is smooth. Put a very small amount of butter or oil in a pan, and when it is hot, put some mixture in the pan and move the pan to make a thin pancake. After one minute, hold the pan carefully and throw or toss the pancake in the air to turn it over. Now cook the pancake on the other side.

When the pancake is ready, squeeze (挤) some lemon juice and put some sugar on it and eat it immediately. Mmm, delicious!

Reading for detail information

Pancakes are very easy to make. Try our recipe (食谱).

Ingredients:

One cup of flour (面粉)

Some butter or oil

One cup of milk

Lemon juice

One large egg

Some sugar

Some salt

Instructions:

Fill one cup with flour and put into a bowl. Fill another cup with milk and pour into the bowl. Crack (打碎) the egg into the bowl and whisk (搅拌) the flour, milk and egg until the mixture is smooth. Put a very small amount of butter or oil in a pan, and when it is hot, put some mixture in the pan and move the pan to make a thin pancake. After one minute, hold the pan carefully and throw or toss the pancake in the air to turn it over. Now cook the pancake on the other side.

When the pancake is ready, squeeze (挤) some lemon juice and put some sugar on it and eat it immediately.
Mmm, delicious!

3.How do they eat pancakes?

Words and expressions

novel coronavirus (新型冠状病毒)

a first-level emergency n.(突发事件) emergent adj.

cooperation n. (合作)

cooperate v.

in this critical (关键的) time

donate v. (捐赠)

donation n.

carnival n. (狂欢节)

flat adj.(扁平的)

toss (抛扔) the pancake

recipe n. (食谱)

flour n. (面粉)

Crack (打碎) the egg

whisk (搅拌) the flour

squeeze (挤) some lemon

Writing assignment

It has been nearly 1 month since we stayed at home because of the novel coronavirus pneumonia (NCP).

- How have you spent the holiday time?
- What new things or skills have you learned?
- How do you feel now?

Please write a short passage and share with us.

(No restriction on the number of words)

21st Century

TEENS *Junior*¹

Thank you.

二十一世纪英语教育传媒出品